

Therapy Without Damaging Side Effects

Many patients feel an improvement after just the first treatment. However it is possible that the body will have to eliminate the harmful deposits freed by the therapy before improvement is felt. These toxic deposits must be eliminated as fast as possible but this may take some time in chronic cases. The liberation of these deposits may at times lead to short lived initial reactions known as die off.

In principle all kinds of disease may be successfully treated with MORA Therapy provided no irreversible destruction of the body tissues has occurred. The therapy has shown especially good results with allergies, food intolerances, environmental poisonings, functional circulatory diseases of the heart, acute and chronic pain states, inflammations, preoperative and post operative care, metabolic and psychosomatic illnesses and the determination of dental material compatibility.

Summary

MORA Therapy is first and foremost engaged in the reduction and elimination of disease causing ultra-fine, pathological, electromagnetic oscillations so that the forces and information regulating the body may be unburdened and normalised and the healing process enhanced.

MORA Therapy has no undesirable side effects. Its application is trouble free and for that reason is especially suitable for use with sick children.

MORA Therapy is extremely versatile since practically every illness or disturbance, be it organic or functional, acute or chronic, already in progress or only beginning, may be treated with Mora therapy.

Barlow's Herbalists
27 Standish Street
Burnley
Lancs

Phone: 01282 423374
E-mail: mail@barlows-herbalists.co.uk
www.barlows-herbalists.co.uk

Barlow's Herbalists

Information for Patients

The original
MORA- Therapy
Of Dr. Franz Morell

What is MORA Therapy

MORA Therapy is an all encompassing assessment and treatment modality utilizing a patients own "ultrafine electromagnetic oscillation". The method had its inception in 1977 after development by the German physician Dr. | Franz Morell and electronics engineer Erich Rasche from whose names the name MO-RA originated.

During more than 20 yrs of research, carried out by well known scientists in Germany and abroad, it was found that each individual possesses a unique spectrum of ultrafine electromagnetic oscillations which can be electronically sensed, processed and then utilized as therapy.

Today it is known that the chemical process in the bodies of humans and animals are controlled by the information carried by and within these oscillations. Furthermore organs and cell types possess characteristic oscillation spectrums which are at the same time unique to each individual. The electromagnetic oscillations referred to in MORA Therapy may be compared to the cardiac impulses detected by an ECG or the brain waves measured by an EEG.

MORA Machine

The individuals unique regulatory forces set free

Damage or disturbance to the body of any sort may alter the internal milieu, so that the biophysical and biochemical functions are affected and sickness results. For example, harmful substances (like the heavy metals found in food, drinking water or environmental pollution) not only affect the body with their physical-chemical nature but also affect it on the regulatory, informational level by the way of the ultra-fine oscillations that they possess.

Functional disturbances occur whenever the delicate guidance of bodily processes is influenced too greatly by interfering and unnecessary oscillations. These malfunctions may eventually cause physical manifestations of disease if the body cannot adequately compensate for them.

Dr Morell had the brilliant idea to specifically eliminate these interfering oscillations by utilising their own "mirror images" to cancel them out, thus unburdening the body and facilitating natural self healing.

MORA Therapy is Not

It is not electrotherapy, just as it is not radiation therapy of any kind. Most of all it is not a paranormal medical method of treatment, the effect of which has to be believed in for an effect to be induced.

MORA Therapy makes use of the latest discoveries in the Bio-physics and has been thoroughly and scientifically researched and proven.

Treatment with the MORA Machine

The patient usually receives treatment for the MORA machine via two hand and foot electrodes.

The patient's own oscillation enters and exits the MORA machine via the electrodes and cables in the same way as nerve impulses are conducted into ECG or EEG devices. Specialised electrodes may also be used to target specific skin areas or pain sites.

The MORA machine is even able to determine via physically active biological filter, which section of an individual's micro-magnetic information spectrum will provide the most beneficial therapy at a particular point in time.

The body's debilitated regulatory forces are then unburdened and strengthened via the optimal amplification and optimal processing of that spectrum. Troublesome oscillatory information from deposits of heavy metals or non-metabolised foods for example is inverted i.e. changed into its mirror image and is then returned in this form to the body. In this way pathological oscillations burdening the body are optimally reduced or even eliminated via their respective opposite oscillations produced by the MORA machine. The patient is treated exclusively with their own specific individual oscillations.

Usually during the first stage of treatment the body is harmonised. In the second stage of treatment localised diseased areas of the body are addressed. The assessment and progress of therapy may be monitored and controlled by measuring acupuncture points.